The Ten Worst Excuses for Not Desexing your Animal Companion

1. Just one litter and then we'll have her spayed. (Studies show that virtually the entire pet over-population problem stems from the "just one litter" mentality.)
2. My dog doesn't run loose, so he doesn't need to be fixed. (Murphy's Law says otherwise.)
3. We always find homes for the puppies. (That means that an equal number of dogs at the pound will have to be euthanased as there are just not enough homes for them all)
4. I want the children to witness the miracle of birth. (Rent a video.)
5. My dog is so cute and unique, there should be more of her. (The shelters and pounds are full of cute and unique dogs)
6. It's not natural. (There hasn't been anything "natural" about dogs since we began to develop breeds thousands of years ago.)
7. I just couldn't look my dog in the eye if I had him desexed. (Be brave!)
8. A female dog should have at least one litter for health reasons. (Medically, factually and ethically indefensible.)
9. Desexing my dog will make him fat and lazy. (Too much food and not enough exercise makes a dog fat and lazy.)
10. Fixing my pet will change its personality. (The main influences on an animal's personality are the kindness and care with which it is raised.)
